

Dan Bonar

Vice President – Residential, ICC Industrial Chimney Co.

Dan grew up with his family in the fireplace/hearth industry. After studying economics and graduating from the University of Alberta, he began his career in retail, then moving on to distribution, and eventually manufacturing. He draws from a deep pool of industry and sales knowledge as well as practical knowledge regarding installations and code requirements. With nearly 20 years experience in the hearth industry, he is currently the Vice President of Residential Products at ICC Chimney Company and sits on the board of multiple hearth industry associations, including being the Chair of HPBAC (Hearth Patio and BBQ Association of Canada). He is fluent in both English and French and resides in Montreal, Canada where his free time is spent being active outdoors with his wife Karen and daughters Olivia and Julia.
